

The state of small businesses

Every year we conduct research across companies of all sizes so we can learn about valued and trending workplace benefits. The responses from these employers and employees, compiled in our annual Workplace Benefits Report, provide us with insights into more relevant, meaningful, and inclusive programs and resources to help you evolve your benefits offerings.

Our goal is to provide you with timely research and thoughtful perspectives so you can help your employees thrive.

Here we highlight small businesses¹ and hear from employers and employees on topics ranging from financial wellness and priorities to retirement to today's workplace.

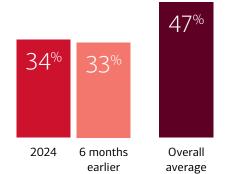

Financial wellness

Employees

Although significantly up from six months earlier, fewer employees at small companies say their financial wellness is good or excellent compared to larger companies and lower than the overall average.

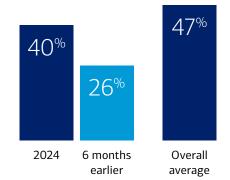

Companies with 1 to 49 employees

A third of employees rate their financial wellness as good or excellent compared to nearly half of employees overall.

Companies with 50 to 99 employees

40% rate their financial wellness as good or excellent, up from six months earlier but still trailing the overall average.

About the study

2024 Workplace Benefits Report

The 2024 Workplace Benefits Report has been prepared by Bank of America Workplace Benefits™, in partnership with Bank of America Institute. First launched in 2011, the annual Workplace Benefits Report plays a critical role in helping make financial lives better by generating real-world insights to help us create solutions that fit our clients' needs.

Methodology

Escalent surveyed a national sample of 955 employees who are working full-time and participate in 401(k) plans, and 804 employers who offer both a 401(k) plan and have sole or shared responsibility for decisions made in the plan. The survey was conducted between November 22, 2023, and January 4, 2024. To qualify for the survey, employees had to be current participants in a 401(k) plan and employers had to offer a 401(k) plan option. Neither was required to work with Bank of America. Bank of America was not identified as the sponsor of the study.
